It is understood that by signing below, the customer is accepting the above selected fuel delivery program and pricing, and accepts the Corrigan Propane Fuel Delivery Terms (see page 2 of the Service Agreement).

It is also understood that if the customer fails to use a minimum volume of propane (according to tank size requirements) during a twelve month period, a standard service charge and equipment rental fee (in accordance with standard company policies at the time of invoicing) may be applied to the customer's account. Tank size minimum usage requirements are as follows:

Tank Size	Required Annual Consumption
125 Gallon Tank	300 Gallons
250 Gallon Tank	400 Gallons
330 Gallon tank	500 Gallons
500 Gallon Tank	700 Gallons
1000 Gallon Tank	1200 Gallons

It is further understood that Corrigan Propane must first accept this agreement before it becomes effective and can revoke this agreement at any time.

The customer must inform Corrigan Propane of all in-home and underground utilities (to include but not limited to electrical, telephone, data, security, cable, or any other supplied service) before any equipment is scheduled to be installed on the customer's property. Any damage to utilities not identified by the customer will be the responsibility of the customer.

The customer is also responsible for monitoring fuel level in the propane storage equipment. Corrigan Propane is not responsible for either direct or indirect damage, injuries, or liabilities caused by the use of propane or by freezing temperatures.

In consideration for the services provided by Corrigan, the customer will (to the fullest extent permitted by law) hold harmless Corrigan Propane and its agents and employees against any claims, damages, losses and expenses, arising out of or resulting from the work of Corrigan Propane and its agents or employees.

By signing below, the customer acknowledges that both documents have been read (both the "Service Agreement" and the Corrigan Propane "Fuel Delivery Terms"), and are understood by the customer.

Fuel Delivery Terms

Payments and Fees:

The Customer will pay for all LP gas supplied by the Company according to the rates outlined in the Residential Customer Propane Agreement. Any deliveries or service calls which are not ordered during regular business hours or outside regular routing may be subject to additional charges. An additional charge of 1-1/2% per month (an annual rate of 18%) will be charged on all invoices which are over thirty days past due. Balances must be paid in full before any future deliveries will be made (excluding Budget Plan customers). A charge of $35.00 to perform a leak and pressure test will be applied to customers whose tanks are empty upon delivery. It is the customer's responsibility to monitor tank percentage.

License, Fees and Taxes:

The Customer will acquire and pay any license, permit, and inspection fees, or other taxes imposed upon or with respect to the installation, storage, or use of LP gas or equipment installation location. If the Company acquires and/or pays the same, the Customer will reimburse the Company upon receipt of the Company's invoice.

Right of Entry:

The Customer agrees to maintain the safe ingress, free from obstacles, from the closest public roadway to the Company installed equipment. The Company or its agents may enter upon the installation location at all reasonable times for the purpose of providing LP gas to the Customer, and inspect, maintain, repair or replace equipment provided by the Company, and in the event of termination of this Agreement, for removing all Company supplied equipment without liability to the Customer for loss, damage, or inconvenience resulting from the disconnection, repossession, or removal of the Company supplied equipment.

Title to Personal Property:

The LP gas tanks, regulators, and other equipment install by the Company will remain the property of the Company and shall not become fixtures or part of the realty at the installation location. Customer agrees to use reasonable care to protect such equipment while in the Customer's custody, and agrees not to remove, tamper with, install, adjust, repair, connect or disconnect and regulator, container or equipment, and to not permit anyone to do so except a Company authorized employee or agent. The Customer will promptly surrender to the Company all said personal property in the Customers possession at the termination of this Agreement. Where equipment is removed, the Customer will not be relieved of any of its obligations to the Company. In the event that the Company's equipment is missing or stolen, the Customer must replace or pay for it at the retail price.

General:

This agreement constitutes the entire Fuel Delivery and Payment Agreement between the Customer and Corrigan Propane and replaces all prior Agreements, both oral and written. No oral promises, understandings, warranties – expressed or implied, shall be deemed part of this Agreement. No alterations, amendments, or waivers shall be binding upon the Company, unless it is in writing and signed by the Company's authorized representative.

WARNING: - Liquefied Petroleum (LP) gas is extremely explosive. No one other than Corrigan Propane, under any circumstances is authorized to fill, connect, disconnect, or otherwise handle in any manner, Corrigan Propane's equipment installed at the location outlined on the other side of this Agreement.
